

Coating Solutions That Fit Your Process

A global coatings manufacturer that's local

Our goal is to provide solutions and deliver the highest quality service anywhere in the world.

As your global partner we provide consistent solutions, time and time again. Combining worldwide manufacturing and local distribution networks with our globally available product range helps to reduce the complexity in specification and the variance in quality. From us, this means one product, one datasheet regardless of location. We supply consistent products and consistent service, when you need it and where you need it.

Sustainability

As part of Akzo Nobel, we are committed to sustainability and are ranked as one of the chemical industry leaders in the Dow Jones Sustainability World Index, demonstrating our commitment to improving our environmental and social performance.

We will work with you to help ensure that your coating specification will meet your overall sustainable design credentials.

Extensive product development and testing will give you confidence in our offer

From three global state of the art R&D facilities in the UK, USA & China, we are developing the coatings of tomorrow for your business. Our capabilities include extensive in-house test data, independent testing and approvals, in-field testing and proof of performance track record, and customised testing to meet specific customer needs.

Our design and development, manufacturing, marketing, technical and commercial support are accredited to ISO 9001:2000 Quality Management System which means you can have absolute confidence in our products and services.

Whether standing out or blending in, we have your colour needs covered

When it comes to the decision of choosing colour, it's important to get it right.

Through our extensive colour know-how, we can make certain that products are supplied to match your vision and their practical application. We have the products, experience and track record to help deliver the high-impact aesthetics and long-lasting corrosion protection you require. International Protective Coatings can match colours worldwide, ensuring the colour you choose will be the colour delivered on-site.
